ABSTRACT

This directory, the fifth in a series on postsecondary schools that offer occupational training, is intended for manpower and educational planners at the federal, state, and local levels and others who require information on the current and potential supply of skilled workers, such as school and agency counselors. Information is included on over 7,600 noncollegiate postsecondary schools as well as listings of colleges and universities that offer occupational training programs. Introductory material discusses criteria for inclusion, accreditation, format, and explanation of data; methodology; and summary of findings and summary tables. The main section lists public and private postsecondary schools alphabetically under the states and cities in which they are located. Each school listing is arranged according to this format: school number (within the state), name and address, telephone, ID number, control or affiliation, type of school, enrollments/completions, accreditation, eligibility, and programs. Two indexes are provided: (1) a program index listing program offerings and references to the schools that offer them and (2) a school index, an alphabetical listing by name of school of all schools in the directory with state abbreviation and school number. Lists of abbreviations and the questionnaire are appended. (YLB)

Foreword

This report is the fifth in a series on postsecondary schools that provide occupational training. Data on these schools were first collected in 1970; the last complete listing of schools was published in 1978. This report includes information on over 7,600 noncollegiate postsecondary schools, as well as listings of colleges and universities that offer occupational training programs. Data on the noncollegiate schools were collected through a special survey by NCES. Information on colleges and universities was obtained from the Survey of Earned Degrees Conferred, which is part of the Higher Education General Information Survey (HEGIS) conducted by NCES. Although this report contains data on over 9,000 postsecondary schools with occupational programs, only those schools that are accredited are included in the directory listing.

This series of reports has been used by school and agency guidance counselors to make referrals for career training, by labor market planners and analysts to develop information on the supply of trained workers in various fields, and by State and regional education planners to obtain a more complete picture of postsecondary educational opportunities in their areas.

Although NCES made every effort to identify all postsecondary schools offering occupational programs, omissions were inevitable. Any information regarding incomplete or inaccurate listings in this report would be greatly appreciated.

Two computer tapes with information from the survey are available. The directory tape provides the same information included in this report. The programs and enrollments tape contains detailed information on programs, enrollments, completions, and staff in noncollegiate postsecondary schools. Information on purchasing these tapes is available from the Statistical Information Office, Brown Building, Room 600, 400 Maryland Avenue, SW., Washington, D.C. 20202, phone (202) 254-6057.

Introduction

This 1982 directory lists public and private schools offering postsecondary occupational education. It is intended to meet the needs of manpower and educational planners at the Federal, State, and local levels and others who require information on the current and potential supply of skilled workers. This directory should help, for example, to identify the types of programs offered at the local level in order to determine whether such programs should be expanded to meet projected demand for the occupation or be curtailed because demand is not anticipated. In vocational guidance, counselors may more easily identify those schools offering training for particular occupations in which students are interested. Also, the directory constitutes a frame for selecting samples of schools for research surveys.

Concepts and Definitions

For the purpose of this directory, occupational education is defined as educational instruction designed to: (1) prepare individuals for gainful employment in recognized occupations and/or new and emerging occupations; (2) assist individuals in making informed and meaningful occupational choices; and (3) upgrade or update the skills of individuals already in an occupational field.

An occupational education program is a planned sequence of courses leading to a specific occupational objective.

Only those public and private schools and institutions that offer specified instructional programs at the postsecondary level are included in the directory.[1] The types of listings include schools classified as vocational/technical, business/commercial, cosmetology/barber, flight, arts/design, hospital, and allied health; technical institutes; junior/community colleges; and 4-year colleges and universities. Excluded are museums, libraries, tutorial services, schools and community agencies which offer avocational training or hobby courses, self-employed instructors, on-the-job training in industrial settings, formal labor/management apprenticeship programs, and other types of schools not open to the general public.

Criteria for Inclusion

To be listed in this directory, public and private schools and institutions that offer postsecondary occupational programs below the baccalaureate level in the United States must fall within one or more of the following categories:

1. Public schools approved by a State department of education;
2. Public and private schools approved by a regional accrediting association recognized by the U.S. Department of Education (ED);
3. Private schools offering programs approved by an accrediting association or agency recognized by ED;
4. Public and private schools meeting the Veterans Administration's requirements or the eligibility requirements of ED's Federal Insured Student Loan or Pell Grant programs.

Accreditation of all schools reported in this directory was verified by ED's Eligibility and Agency Evaluation Staff. Approval for veterans' education programs was based on a list provided by the Veterans Administration.

Accreditation

The U.S. Department of Education does not accredit, recommend, or approve any school or educational institution. It does, however, maintain a list of recognized accrediting agencies and associations. In general, there are two types of accreditation: (a) institutional and (b) specialized or program.

Institutional accreditation is awarded by the secondary and postsecondary commissions of six regional accrediting associations. This type of accreditation applies to the total institution and signifies that the institution as a whole is achieving its objectives satisfactorily. The regional accrediting agencies (with the designating symbols used in this directory) and the States within their jurisdiction are listed below:

A New England Association of Schools and Colleges: Connecticut, Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, Vermont

Specialized or program accreditation is conferred by a number of organizations which are national in scope and represent a specialized area of study (e.g., cosmetology, practical nursing, trade and technical education, etc.). Format and Explanation of Data

Public and private postsecondary schools are listed alphabetically under the States and the cities in which they are located. Each school listing is arranged in the format shown below.

School number. A number is assigned to each school in sequence as it appears within the State. The school listed first in each State is assigned the number 1. These numbers are unique to this publication and are used only to facilitate identification of the school from the School Index or the Program Index. They do not appear on the computer tape.

Name and address. Names and addresses include the county and ZIP code. Abbreviations are in accordance with those listed in appendix A.

Telephone. The area code and the telephone number are provided.

ID number. A serial number is assigned to noncollegiate schools. All institutions of higher education are assigned a Federal Interagency Committee on Education (FICE) code.

Control or affiliation. The following terms are used to identify the type of control of the school listed:

Abbreviation	Definition
Public	Public—Controlled by Federal, State, or local government
Prop	Proprietary—Operated as a private, profitmaking school
Ind	Independent—Operated as an independent nonprofitmaking school

Type of school. Definitions for the various types of schools at the postsecondary level of instruction were originally adapted from Standard Terminology for Curriculum and Instruction in Local and State School Systems (OE 23052). Schools were classified according to the types of occupational programs they offered.

The following list gives the abbreviation and program offerings for each type of school.

Voc	Vocational/technical—A school offering a wide variety of occupational programs or clusters of programs. Schools in this category may be considered multiprogram schools and are usually public schools.
Tech	Technical institute—An instituion (usually 2-year) offering instruction in one or more of the technologies at a level above the skilled trades and below the professional level.
Bus	Business/commerical school—A school offering programs in business occupations such as accounting, data processing, word processing and secretarial. Special-purpose schools that offer the following programs are included: Court reporting, finance, insurance, real estate, and sales.
Cos/Bar	Cosmetology/barber school—A school offering programs in hairstyling for men and women and in the care and beautification of hair, complexion, and hands.
Flight	Flight school—A school offering programs for training as aircraft mechanic, commerical pilot, or in other technical fields related to aviation.
Trade	Trade school—A school offering training in one trade or craft or a single cluster of trades or crafts, such as auto mechanics, baking, bartending, carpentry, carpetlaying, commercial diving, cooking, dog grooming, drafting, fire protection, horseshoeing, locksmithing, meat processing, police training, truck driving, and welding.

Jr Col	Junior/community college—An institution offering the first 2 or 3 years of college instruction in occupational programs. It frequently grants a certificate or an associate degree but not a bachelor's degree.
Col	College—An institution offering instruction at the college level leading to a bachelor's or higher degree. It frequently offers occupational programs leading to an associate degree, diploma, or certificate below the baccalaureate.
Other	Schools or institutions not classified in any of the above groups include schools of modeling, brewing, maritime occupations, and horsemanship.

Enrollments/completions. For most schools, the enrollment figure shown is the total (including full-time and part-time) ever enrolled in occupational programs over a period of 1 year. Generally, enrollment data refer to the 1980-1981 school year or to the 1981 calendar year, depending on the recordkeeping practices of the school. For colleges and junior/community colleges, however, the figure shown represents only those students who, in 1981, were awarded a certificate, associate degree, or diploma in one of the occupational programs. Where schools did not provide enrollment data, the space is left blank.

Accreditation. Abbreviations are used to indicate the school or program accreditation awarded, as of July 1982, by ED-approved accrediting bodies as listed in the section "accreditation."

Eligibility. Abbreviations are used to indicate whether schools have established eligibility with the Veterans Administration (VA) or with ED's Federally Insured Student Loan (FISL) or Basic Education Opportunity Grant (Pell Grant) programs.

Programs. Only those instructional programs which are occupationally oriented are listed. Program titles are taken from Standard Terminology for Curriculum and Instruction in Local and State School Systems (OE 23052) and A Taxonomy of Instructional Programs in Higher Education (OE 50064). See the section in appendix A "program abbreviations" for an alphabetical list of programs included in the directory and for the abbreviations used.

Special Note on Indexes

Two indexes are provided in this publication: a School Index and a Program Index.

The School Index is an alphabetical listing, by name of school, of all schools included in the directory. Each name is followed by a State abbreviation and school number as a reference to its location in the directory.

The Program Index is a feature for use primarily for career guidance assistance. It lists program offerings, followed by references to the schools that offer these programs. Used in conjunction with the U.S. Department of Labor's Occupational Outlook Handbook, the directory should prove valuable for teachers and guidance counselors.

Methodology

The 1980 universe listing of almost 12,000 accredited and unaccredited schools was used as the basis for developing this edition of the directory. State directors of vocational education were asked to notify NCES of any name and address changes and school closings or openings that occurred since the last directory was published. Lists from other sources were also examined for new schools.

Updated information on enrollments and program offerings of these schools was compiled through the use of several sources:

1. About 1,600 junior/community colleges and 4-year colleges and universities which offer occupational programs below the baccalaureate level were identified from the Higher Education General Information Survey (HEGIS) for 1981. Data on programs and number of degrees awarded were taken from the Earned Degrees Conferred schedule.

2. A random sample of 1,900 schools selected from the 1980 universe listing (excluding HEGIS schools) was made to collect detailed information on such items as length of programs, tuition and other charges, enrollments (full-time and part-time, age, sex, and ethnic group), completions, and type and sex of staff. The results of this survey will be published in a separate report. Information necessary for the universe and directory update was extracted from the questionnaire forms used in this survey.

3. The remaining schools were sent questionnaire forms designed solely to update the universe and directory. A copy of the form appears in appendix B. Attempts were made to contact nonrespondents, first by mail and later by telephone. Schools were considered closed if no telephone listing was found.

The final directory listing includes detailed information on the approximately 6,000 accredited postsecondary schools with occupational programs.

Summary of Findings

Enrollment in noncollegiate postsecondary schools with occupational programs was 1.9 million in 1982, approximately the same level as in 1980. In 1982, there were 7,603 noncollegiate postsecondary schools with occupational programs. An additional 1,603[2] colleges and universities offered occupational programs; however, no enrollment data were collected from these schools. Overall, there were 9,208 postsecondary schools offering occupational training programs in 1982. School data are for these 9,208 schools; enrollment data are for the 7,603 noncollegiate schools only.

Nearly 25 percent of the schools were classified as cosmetology/barber schools, 14 percent were business/commercial schools, and 11 percent were community/junior colleges (table 1).

Over 65 percent of the schools were proprietary, and another 14 percent were independent nonprofit institutions (table 2). Only 21 percent were public, with the majority of these being colleges and universities. Private schools accounted for over 75 percent of total enrollments in the 7,603 noncollegiate schools.

California had both the highest number of schools, with 1,043 (table 3), and the largest number of students in occupational programs, with 248,800 (table 4). Other States with large numbers of students included New York, Michigan, Florida, and Pennsylvania (table 4).

The vast majority (73 percent) of students enrolled in noncollegiate occupational programs were full-time students (table 4). As in the past, a small majority (54 percent) of students were women, a slight increase from 1980.

Almost 65 percent of all schools were either accredited (table 5) or eligible for Federal student grant or loan programs.

[2] These 1,603 colleges and universities are included in the Higher Education General Information Survey (HEGIS) and were not surveyed in this effort.

Indexes

Program Index

School and
Institution Index

Program Index

This section of the directory should be of great value to guidance counselors and students seeking names and addresses of schools offering occupational programs.

The Program Index is arranged in alphabetical sequence by title of occupational program, followed by the abbreviation used in the main directory listing to designate types of program offerings. Users should also check references to related programs. For purposes of clarity, short explanations appear in parentheses beneath some program titles regarding the kinds of occupations or the types of products associated with the program.

Following the program titles and other information are coded references to schools which offer the programs. These references use a two-letter State abbreviation followed by a number. For example, MD 185 designates the 185th School in the State of Maryland, which can be quickly identified by referring to the directory listing under Maryland and locating the school numbered 185. State abbreviations are provided in appendix A; school numbers appear on the line just above their names in the directory listing.

Program Abbreviations

To conserve space in the directory listing, abbreviations or shortened names are used to indicate the various programs offered by a school.

Program titles are taken from Standard Terminology for Curriculum and Instruction in Local and State School Systems, Handbook VI (OE 23052); and Vocational Education and Occupations (OE 8061). Program titles and codes from these two publications are referred to as OE codes. Because no OE code exists for certain popular and/or new program offerings, a dummy code is assigned and asterisked in the list below.

Also incorporated in the program titles are the occupational programs that were reported on the survey forms for Earned Degrees Conferred, 1980-1981, Higher Education General Information Survey (HEGIS). The source of these programs is A Taxonomy of Instructional Programs in Higher Education (OE 50064). Such program titles and codes are referred to as HEGIS codes.

The following list provides the abbreviations used in the directory listing, the full name as it appears in the Program Index, and the associated OE and/or HEGIS codes:
